

amendment in the first place; but the fact that we are, I think there is one flawed argument that has been made. If one cannot use the money for hard purposes in the first place, I do not think one can pledge it as a collateral for hard purposes because if they had a default, the money would be illegal at that point. I think the argument that was made was wrong in the first place, but I think it is sort of a meaningless amendment as it is.

Mr. FATTAH. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the remainder of my time.

I feel almost in the role of Joshua, but I want to choose to be with SHAYS and MEEHAN this day, and I would hope that my colleagues would follow.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. KINGSTON).

The question was taken; and the Chairman pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

RECORDED VOTE

Mr. FATTAH. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

A recorded vote was ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—ayes 232, noes 196, not voting 7, as follows:
